

RESTORATION COMPANY BUILDS TRUST AND REVENUE THROUGH POSITIVE REVIEWS.

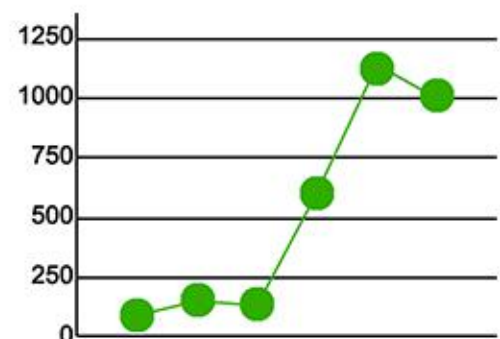

The Problem

This growing company wasn't getting enough traffic to their website. They also weren't getting the leads from the site that they had hoped to get

The Solution

Virtual Vision knows that companies who are trusted get more work. The way to get potential customers to trust you is to have stellar reviews. Companies with reviews show up more often in search results. We set up a review service for them to make it easy and convenient for their customers to give reviews. Then we set up a new website with a lead contact form.

The Outcome

The reviews service averaged one new positive review every week and allowed the company to grow exponentially through the trust instilled in them from potential customers searching for restoration solutions. Together with the newly designed site and web form, they proceeded to average one completed lead form every day.
